

Katrina and Microchipping

Since 2007 we have been offering microchipping for our patients. Many clients thought this measure to be unnecessary for their indoor cats. In light of the sad events surrounding Katrina, it was dramatically made clear that unexpected disaster can strike even in the home. Those pets that were fortunate enough to be microchipped prior to Katrina fared much better in their search to find their owners. 90% of those pets who were microchipped were reunited with their owners, compared to only 10 % who were not. We encourage you to reconsider this option. Kahmeer would be happy to show off how comfortable a microchip really is!
